

Football Hall offers thanks for Challenge Match

Jan. 4, 2014 |

pal-item.com

“Thank you” to the Wayne County Foundation for the recent opportunity to participate in the Challenge Match grant. This opportunity followed a much appreciated and generous gift earlier this year from First Bank Richmond to begin a prioritized list of technology upgrades. The Challenge Match funds will allow us to complete these improvements.

We would also like to thank those who contributed to our Challenge Match and to also thank Doxpop Charitable Giving Fund, the Connie and Roger Green Donor Advised Fund, and the Wayne Bank and Trust Co. Community Fund for supporting a unique variety of non-profits in the Richmond-Wayne County community.

The IFHOF was established in 1973 by former local businessmen Charles Wellings, Claude O’Maley and Harry Davidson, along with legendary Richmond High School football coach Hub Etchison. Visitors with an interest in the game of football come from across the United States, Canada and beyond.

As the IFHOF closes its 40th year and begins a new decade in 2014, we will continue our founders’ mission as a statewide entity to support and give back to the Richmond community through our visitors, events and tourism dollars.

Gerry Keesling, President